Fine Teas and Coffees specialty at R. P. Mansfield's.

Judge Robinson went to Bisbee on Sunday and is expected home tomorrow evening.

Blankets and quilts very cheap at the New York Store.

"Elite."

A stove was a luxury to-day—that is if you had any wood or coal to burn in it.

The members of the Tombstone Dramatic Club will meet this evening.

All new style dress goods, at the New York Store.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dunbar, of Tres Alamos, are in the city.

Full stock half boots for $4 at J. Meyers & Bros.

Sam Katzenstein of Charleston was in town again to-day.

Dyar & Baldwin have a fine lot of live Thanksgiving turkeys. 11-19

Early risers were treated to a view of frost and ice this morning.

Don't pass the Fifth street News Depot, but come in and examine the stock. 12-1

The fire boys are practicing daily for the tournament on Christmas day.

Our stock of boots and shoes are the finest this side of San Francisco, at Summerfield Bros.

Dr. McSwegan is confined to his room by sickness, but hopes to be around within a day or two.

Boss Stebbins and H. A. Tweed, who have been visiting the metropolis of California, returned last evening.

Mr. Dan Leuch, the general proprietor of the Maison Doree received to-day five hundred eastern shell oysters and Dan defies any cook in town to beat him in serving them to his numerous customers in the different taverns. 12-4

The featherweights are all in active training for the race on Christmas day.

Mr. Westcoate failed to start for Los Angeles this morning as announced in last evening's issue.

Murty Long, the genial mixologist of Ramsey's saloon in Bisbee, came in last evening and will return on tomorrow morning's stage.

Secretary Bayard has appointed Mr. Thomas E. Farish, of Cochise county, to the assistant secretaryship. This appointment pleases the Courier and will be hailed with delight by Tom's many friends here and in California.—Courier.

The skating rink will open on Friday evening with a social dance. This will be good news to our young friends who have been anxiously awaiting this item for two months.

The Epitaph seems to think that we stated some article incorrectly last evening, but fails to state what particular item it meant. We don't know what it refers to, but would ask Bro. Dunbar to watch his own columns pretty close, and let his Allen street neighbor alone, as there is sharp pencils in that office, and muscular fingers to use them.

Passing the Fifth street news store to-day, we observed the proprietor, Mr. Barnes, busily engaged in unpacking holiday goods, which by the time this reaches the eye of our reader will all be placed upon the shelves and in cases for the inspection of the public, who are respectfully requested to call and examine before looking elsewhere.

The Stage Robbers.

The following lines were written by Johnny Bennett who is well known in this city, and who has been convicted in Phenix on two charges of stage robbery, to the Gazette of that place:

It was in the month of August
"Neath a clear and azure sky,
We were sitting by the river—
John Pennington and I.

O'er our heads the slender willows
Quivered gently in the breeze;
At our feet the silvery rivulet
Sang sweetest melodies.

Surrounded by the wild grandeur
Of that secluded spot,
Little dreamed I, little thought I,
This would be my future lot.

But since that time there's come a change
That struck with deadly thud;
It chilled the blood within my veins
And killed for "there" all friendship's blood.

My friendship "you" have sacrificed;
"Your" liberty was far sweeter;
And now "you" fondest hope has failed;
I'll pray for "you," poor creature.

But yet I'll fight to shield thee,
Though to the law thou didst yield me—
To pay the ransom of my fate.
O, traitor! I have learned thee,
But it is too late!

Now my advice to one and all,
On straight or crooked trail,
Is to leave the partnership alone;
It will offend sink than sail.

And though "her" faith be pledged to you,
In early day or later,
Take heed in time, eight out of nine,
Will surely prove the traitor!

Obliging Wives.

[Butte City Town Talk.]

The following conversation was overheard to-day by our reporter at Sands & Boyce's corner on Main street, between two ladies:

"Why do you make such a disgusted face? Is there anything particularly the matter with you this morning?"

"I believe my husband is fixing to run off with another woman."

"If I thought that, and I was in your place, I'd get even with him. I'd run off with some other man."

"Well isn't that what I've been trying to do for the last six months? Where is the other man?"

"I am not sure, but if you were to encourage him a little, I think my husband would run off with you. I wish he would elope with you, for then I'd have an excuse to go with one of the leading citizens, a prominent man, who has been paying me marked attention of late. I'd rather have my husband elope with you than any other lady friend I've got."

Rollin Munchausen Daggett.

[Carson Appeal.]

Nobody can help admiring the sublime assurance of our friend Rollin M. Daggett. He was around the State a few months ago announcing that he was going into the Senatorial fight with the following wholesale backing:

John Mackay and the mines; William Sharon and the mills; J. P. Jones and the mines and mills; W. S. Hobart and the mines and mills and flumes; the C. P. R. R. and all their rolling stock; the moral support of Col. J. G. Fair; the underground influence of Cassidy; the personal check of Rollin M. Daggett; and the Washoe support of Christopher Powning.

All this blooming occurred while he had a commission from the Sandwich Islands in his coat-tail pocket, and was traveling over the continent as a naturalized citizen of the Sandwich Islands.

The Appeal is opposed to importing candidates from the coffee-colored dominions of the Pacific to run as Senatorial candidates in this State.

Let Them Out.

[N. Y. Sun]

Warner and Work must have a fair trial in an open court, before a jury of 12 honest, incorruptible men—men above suspicion. Nothing short of that will satisfy the public, already out of patience with the varying jugglery, the strainings, the evasions, the extra-legal devices, and the sophistries by which is sought to compass their escape. If these men are to go free with a million and more of stolen money, let Sing Sing and Auburn open their doors and set free Ward and Fish! Let us have poetic justice anyhow! The public cannot be deceived.

A choice lot of dried fruit of all kinds, at R. P. Mansfield's.

Just look at us, Seamans & Son we are bristling with holiday goods, our show window is nothing compared with our display inside.

Jockey Queen cigars 12½ cents each at Ashmun & Walkers.

OUR POT-POURI

LOCAL OF AND TERRITORIAL NEWS.

Items That Please Some, While It Makes the Guilty Squirm.

The People's Paper Always to the Front When There is Anything to be Found Out.

Judge Peel is a fatherly old gentleman with the school marm.

Miss Nellie Cashman has gone to Tucson on a business visit.

Willcox is the largest cattle shipping point in Arizona.

Tucson and Prescott are afflicted with nominating conventions for city officers.

Owing to the cold snap to-day the streets did not present as animated appearance as usual.

Mr. J. O. Dunbar has had the upper portion of the Epitaph building repaired and cleaned, and now occupies the same as a dwelling house.

We learn that as soon as the lease upon the Ingersoll mine expires, the company who owns the same will commence active operations, and employ a large force of men.

Judge Easton will hold court in his new office, just opposite the publication rooms of THE DAILY TOMBSTONE.

Chas. Wallace, who is a pupil of the California Military Academy, situated at Oakland, California, will return home this evening to spend the holidays.

Would it not be a good idea for our citizens to get up a Christmas tree for the benefit of the Children of the public school on Christmas night.

A ladies riding tournament is one of the projects spoken of at the Driving Park on Christmas day, for which a handsome side saddle will be presented to the best rider by Mr. A. T. Jones.

If a Russian should visit this city at the present time, he would think that Tombstone had captured Turkey, but let him visit us again January 2, 1886, and he will be convinced that Turkey is no more.

Mr. W. E. Morris, who has been employed at Fort Huachuca in the construction of several new buildings, came in from that place yesterday on a visit to his family and returned to-day to his labors.

Chas. W. Beach, who is editing a cattle ranch in Kirkland Valley, near Prescott, has just placed several hundred head of Texas cattle upon the same.

The Florence Enterprise is after Roswell G. Wheeler, Agent of the Pima Indians, with a sharp stick, and makes some very serious charges which we reproduce in another column.

The members of the Amateur Dramatic Club are requested to meet at the rooms of Mrs. Gregory this evening at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is requested as it is desirable that a performance be given as soon as possible for the benefit of the cemetery fund.

The firemen's race will not take place at the race track as heretofore announced, as the city council and the chief of the fire department will not permit the hose carts to go outside of the city limits, and the insurance men are making a kick.

A certain printer in town who was punished and reprimanded last evening by his craftsmen for conduct unbecoming an upright printer, was making himself very obnoxious to-day, by using bad language, and threatening to whip all the printers in town. We have got an idea that the young man had better let the contract out.

Col. Bean, ex-superintendent of the Southern Pacific railroad of Arizona and New Mexico, is in this city visiting his daughter, Mrs. W. H. Stilwell.

A handsome gold watch and chain will be raffled off on the evening of the twenty-third for the benefit of the Catholic church. Everybody should take a chance when it is for so worthy an object.

An Eccentric Publication.

The latest novelty in newspapers is published in Paris, and entitled the Bon Guide, it is the organ of the vagrants and sturdy beggars' interests. But one copy is published. The craft are allowed to peruse it every morning, where they find the addresses of the charitable people, weddings and meetings, good to be famed. Advertisements are received: one is from a blind man, who is willing to sell his standing ground in a street—in fact, retiring from business. There is another wanting the services of a blind fiddler and an intelligent child to do the guide, philosopher and friend business. Truly the uses of the art of printing are every day being more and more developed.

The Whims of Wheeler.

Agent Roswell G. Wheeler, of the Pima Indian Agency, was in town Tuesday, and was not in a very happy frame of mind because of an article in the Enterprise questioning his honesty. He came with blood in his eye, but returned home, we are pleased to state, without drenching the street with gore or driving the editor of this truly religious sheet into hysterics. By the way speaking of Mr. Wheeler, we would like to inquire does he remember of buying two stallions lately for the government and charging the latter $825 for the same, and does he remember that he paid only $200 for one of these horses and $260 for the other, and that he gave Mr. Brazee, of Mesa City, $100 to manipulate the job him and sign the voucher for $825? And, come to think of it, did he not sell a set of government harness at Phenix with a pair of mules and put the money in his own pocket? Didn't he dispose of a wagon load of government stores at Mesa City? Didn't he fatten hogs on government swill and grain and turn them into the Indian school under a fictitious contract as beef? Didn't he have a condemning board sign a report to the effect that they had examined, condemned and destroyed a lot of articles at the agency that were subsequently issued to the Indians as new articles, and the new articles taken and sold? Didn't he do freighting with government teams and divide the profit with the teamster? Didn't he visit the Tombstone convention as a delegate and charge his expenses to the government, with the statement that the said expenses were incurred by a trip to the Papago reservation on government business? These are a few of the facts in our possession, but they are only a drop in the bucket, so to speak. We have in our hands an abundance of the most damaging evidence, and if Mr. Wheeler and his friends do not believe that we are prepared to prove all we say now, or may say hereafter, let them sue us for libel. We challenge them to the contest.—Florence Enterprise.

COUNTY RECORDS.

The following instruments have been filed in the office of the County Recorder:

LOCATION

The examination of the applicants for teacher's certificates was concluded to-day.

Try a bottle of Old Forrester whisky, at R. P. Mansfield's.

Changes in Rates of Postage.

Several changes having lately been made by the postoffice department in rates of postage affecting newspapers and packages of merchandise, we note several of the most important:

Rates of postage on second-class matter will be one cent per pound, or fraction thereof, including papers for Canada, with the exceptions noted below:

Each piece of second-class matter offered for mailing must be properly enclosed in a wrapper, clearly addressed; or all pieces of mail-matter for one postoffice may be securely enclosed in one wrapper, addressed to the postmaster, provided each piece enclosed is properly addressed.

Any article or item in any newspaper or other publication may be marked for observation, except by written or printed words, without increase of postage.

Second-class matter cannot be enclosed in envelopes; but must be wrapped exposed at both ends, so that the contents can be readily examined.

Letters, merchandise sealed against inspection, and other first-class matter, will pass through the mail at two cents for each ounce or fraction thereof, without the package being limited to four pounds in weight, as in the case of third and fourth-class matter.

Merchandise not sealed and otherwise mailable can pass through the mails at one cent for each ounce or fraction thereof.

Manuscript by itself is first-class matter. Proofs and corrected proofs are third-class matter, and may be accompanied by the original written manuscript.

The Epitaph publishes an article this morning in reference to business men not supporting their home paper, and sending away from here for their job work. Now we know of many cases of this kind ourselves, and are in hopes that the practice will cease, as it is just as fair to send away for your merchandise, clothing and in fact everything you need, as it is to subscribe for an outside paper.

The home newspaper is a photograph of the city in which it is published, and if it is illy supported people abroad who scan its columns will size up the town accordingly. So we say to the citizen of Tombstone patronize your home newspaper by all means.

Messrs. Caesar and Webfruts, will put down a new sidewalk in front of the Crystal palace saloon.

Old boy "Steb" says he don't mind paying for an umbrella once in a while, but he wants it to be a good one.

Mr. Blackburn, was arrested this afternoon by officer Clancy, and charged with carrying concealed weapons.

Mr. J. O. Dunbar, editor of the Epitaph, we think is a little fresh and needs a little salt. John go a little slow until you get firmly established, for you know that your paper may last for years, and it may not last so long.

Would it not be a good idea for the business men on Allen, Fremont and Fifth street to see to it and have the nails that are sticking up in the sidewalks driven down. If it were done ladies could walk on the sidewalks without being in danger of tearing their dresses.

Go to Dyar & Baldwins on Fremont street, between Fourth and Fifth if you want to buy groceries cheap.

Pickled pork, just received at R. P. Mansfield's.

Notice to the Public.

Are you going to be gulled by the statements of A. Bauer, the butcher, wherein he says that he will sell his meat cheaper at retail than his competitors can, at wholesale. Is he again dealing with the cowboys? It must be so, for no living man can do an honest business and sell better meat and at lower prices than families, restaurants, etc., can be supplied for at the Cochise market on Allen street between Second and Third. HILTON & SPICER, Proprietors.

Notice.

To the taxpayers of Cochise County, Arizona Territory: The fighting Thirteenth having passed the law at their session, it is imperative that the Territorial and county taxes for the current year of 1885, must be paid in the office of the County Treasurer and Tax Collector, as the Treasurer can not visit places and collect taxes. A. J. RITTER, Treasurer and Ex-Officio Tax-Collector 11-24tf
